NHRC's attention drawn to the incident of fire

The serious attention of the National Human Rights Commission has been drawn to various media reports on the massive loss of properties and destruction of forest due to the incidents of forest fire in various parts of the country.

The Commission urges Nepal Government to adopt precautionary measures such as to increase surveillance and to deploy adequate fire-fighting equipment including other logistics in order to evade further repercussion of the incidents of the loss of forests and property due to the forest fire.

The Commission also urges Nepal Government to show sensitiveness in such circumstances to minimize the loss of people and properties due to the natural disaster and also to make appropriate arrangement of immediate rescue, relief and rehabilitation of the victims.
