The Commission to remain open during Dashain, Tihar and Chath festivals

The Central Office, Regional Offices and Sub-regional Offices of National Human Rights Commission will remain open from 11 AM till 2 PM during forthcoming Dashain, Tihar and Chath festivals.

The Commission has made an arrangement to keep the complaint registration office open during the festival holidays keeping mind the protection of human rights of general people.

During this period, the Commission will receive the complaints on the incidents of the human rights violations and excesses and conduct rapid monitoring on the serious cases of human rights violations.

The Commission urges the agitating political parties to suspend their protest programs for the protection of the people's freedom of movement and their cultural rights keeping in mind Dashain, Tihar and Chhath festivals.

The Commission also urges the Government of Nepal to effectively protect the consumers' economic, social and cultural rights in order to mitigate the impact left on the daily life of the people due to hindrance caused to the smooth supply of medicines, LPG and petroleum products for a long time.
