Safeguard the Right to Health of the Citizens

LALITPUR: The attention of the National Human Rights Commission has been drawn to the media report containing the outbreak of contagious 'Swine Flu' for the last few days and the death of a woman infected from it in the capital.

The Commission, therefore, would like to draw the attention of the government to bring about awareness in time and take precautionary measures to protect the citizens from further transmission of endemic Swine Flu. Likewise, the Commission would like to draw the attention of all stakeholders to remain aware and active for the protection of the rights to health of the citizens provisioned by the constitution.

Having found the establishment of the 'Health Desk' along the bordering area of India for the control and prevention of the endemic 'Swine Flu,' the Commission has issued directives to its Dhangadhi, Nepalgunj, Butwal, Janakpur and Biratnagar offices to conduct monitoring on the effectiveness of these desks and submit the report accordingly.

Right to health of the people being taken seriously by the Commission, the appropriate decision will be made upon receiving the reports on it.
